Overcoming Barriers in Philadelphia

Endorsement Form

The Building Green: Overcoming Barriers in Philadelphia report summarizes one year of research and data collected from focus groups. Conducted by a team assembled by the Pennsylvania Environmental Council, and led by Sandy Wiggins, past US Green Building Council Chair, the report's recommendation solutions - if implemented - will move the city in the right direction by creating a strong, clear set of mandates and incentives. In fact, by focusing on these solutions, Philadelphia could take the lead and set the example for the rest of the country.
